Voluntary address
~~delivered~~ Feb: 24th 1812.

Dear. Gosthorne - we conclude our lectures for the present year. In reviewing the course which I have delivered, I have to lament its imperfections partly from my inability to do justice to the different branches of medicine which I have ~~attempted to~~ ^{been forced to} ~~attempted to teach,~~ ¹ ~~assigned to me;~~ and partly to the limits that are assigned to our lectures by the laws of the University.

Medicine has been studied & practised in three ways. 1 as a drama, in which men act a solemn and formal part in sick rooms without either knowledge or skill in the profession they exercise. 2 ^{by} ~~as~~

2^o: It has been studied and ~~practised~~ as a trade in which the acquisition of wealth is the only object of a physician's pursuit, and to which he sacrifices all considerations of humanity, ^{friendship}, justice and patriotism. Lastly it has been ~~also~~ studied & practised as a science.

— In this case, a physician ~~can~~ observes, reads - thinks - and reasons, and prefers the health and ^{lives} of his patients and the advancement of his profession to private interest, or temporary reputation.

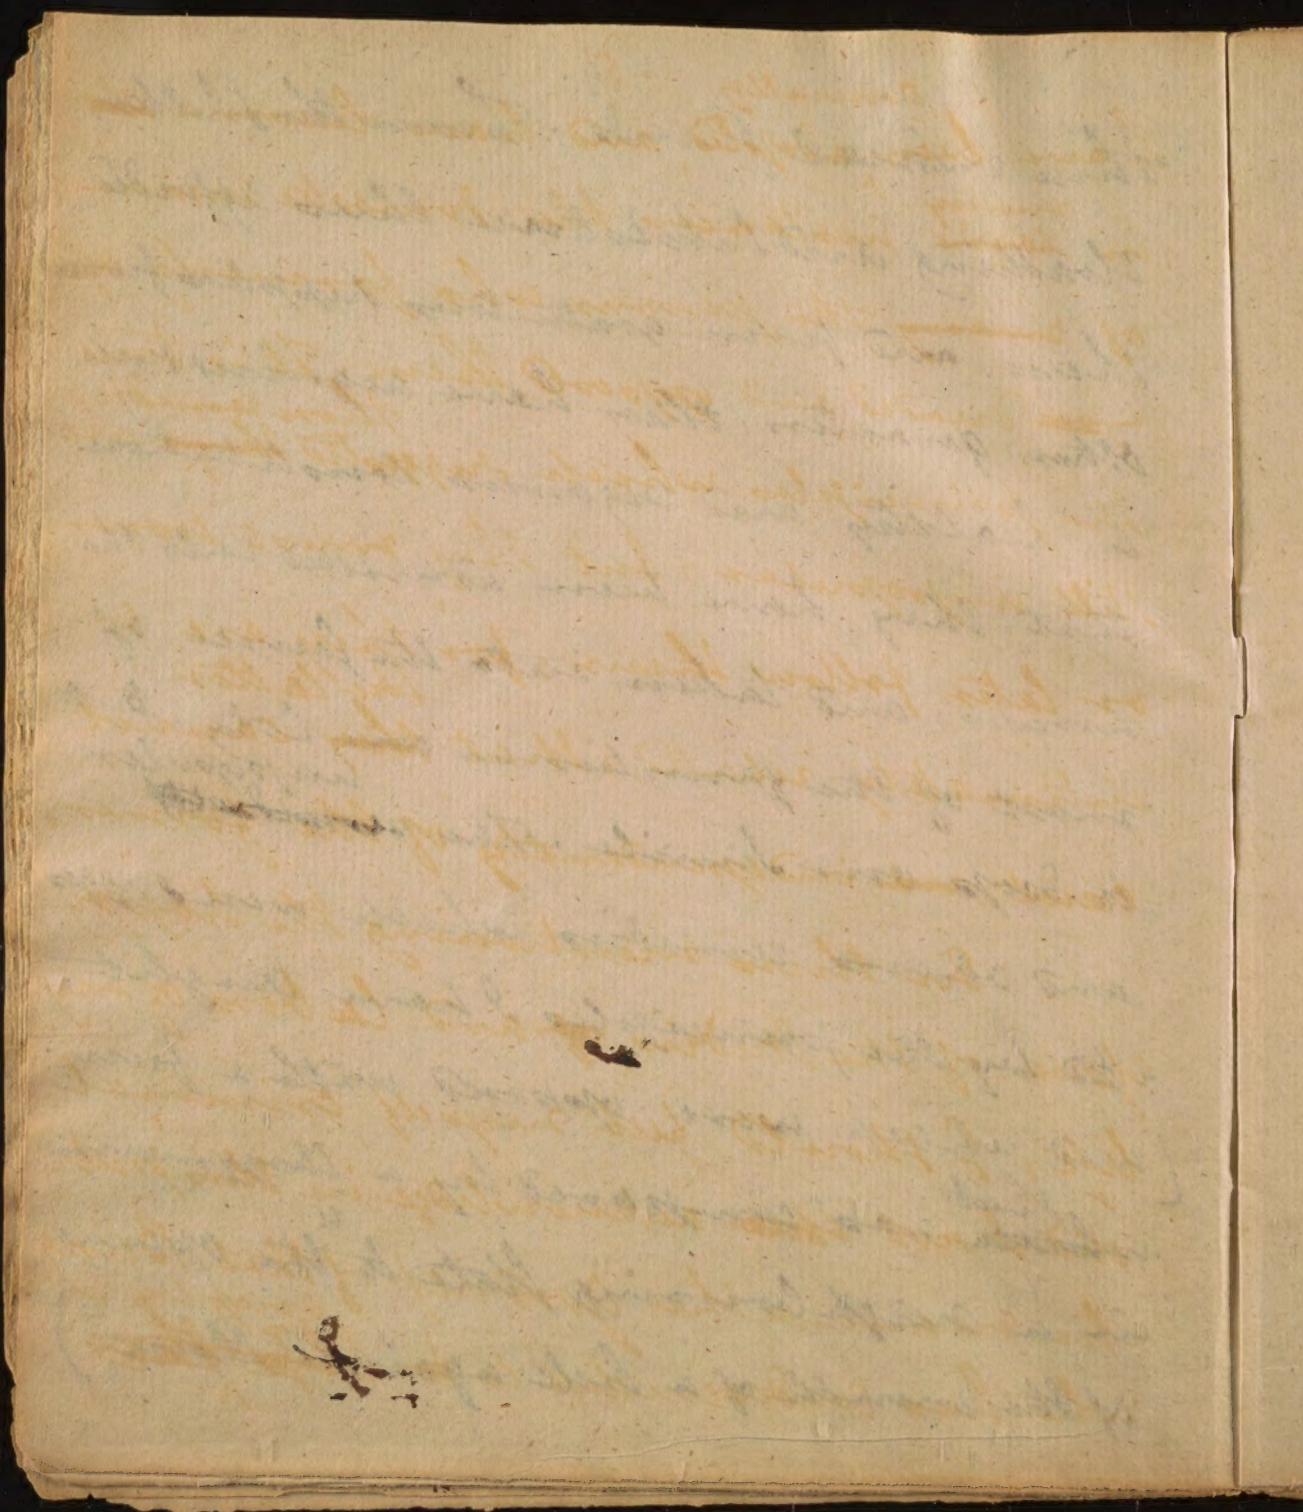

— I have endeavoured to teach the ~~the~~ practice of medicine in the last way that has been mentioned. In my attempts to do so, I have delivered a number of new principles founded upon facts that at ~~one~~

3 are in many instances obvious to the friends, and that have been obtained upon me by the phenomena of diseases which are peculiar to the United States. These prin-ciples, when first delivered, fell apparently stillborn from this Chair. They soon however revived, but under much un-favourable circumstances as to be thrust from the arms, & even driven from the doors of most of the citizens of Philadelphia. For many years they rambled up and down our streets like ~~little~~^{ragged} beggar boys with no other sup-port than what they received from my scanty store, and the charity of ~~two~~^{two} or thru emrical friends. From the shelter, cloathing and substance thus afforded them, and from gratuitous supplies from other quarters, they have acquired such a healthy and vigorous constitution, that they have been admitted into the hospitals, and taken into the service of most of the families in our city. But to drop our simile. The ~~unpopuler~~ and odious remedies which were sugges-ted by the principles I have taught, (and which were opposed with a fury ^{that} ~~which~~ was compared by a Clergyman in a neighbouring State to the opening of the mouth of a hell against them") have been ^{generally} adopted, and have become ~~the~~ ^{in many instances} the domestic medicines of ~~many~~ the persons who formerly ~~opposed~~ dreaded and opposed them. It is true the principles which suggested ^{those remedies} ~~those~~ are still unpopular, but they must sooner or later follow them, for they are so intimately related, that ^{the latter} they cannot exist ~~in~~ independently of the former.

In thus mentioning the happy issue of the studies ~~of~~ and labors of my life, I should put myself criminal, did I not ~~thus~~ acknowledge in this pref--liminary manner the goodness of that Being ^{employ} who has condescended to ~~to~~ ^{bestow} ~~the~~ ¹ a weak and ~~so~~ unworthy instrument ~~designed~~ & ~~designed~~ to be good & use for the benefit of his creatures, for the purpose of ^{increasing the means of} promoting the health & happiness of his creatures. But my obligations do not stop here. I owe much to ~~many~~ several of my brethren in this city and in other parts of the United States, also to many of my pupils for a number of useful facts & hints by which my principles have been supported, consulted and extended far beyond my original ideas of their applications or usefulness.

Nor will I conceal in the last place my obligations to the talents, learning and ingenuity of the Gentlemen who have opposed ~~it~~ in attacking my system of of medicine in all its stages, for ~~much~~ ~~of the~~ ^{a large} ~~good~~ share of the favourable reception it has met with from the public. They have pointed out its weak parts, and have by that means ^{done} by multiplying ^{by means of} facts, ~~for~~ ^{and} reading & led me, ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~reject~~ observation, to defend those parts, and thus to render the whole system more acceptable and useful. For the important aid and support it ^{has} ~~has~~ they have given it, I thus publickly offer them my most grateful acknowledgments, ^{accompanying} with a request that they will continue to favour it with their ingenuities, and sacrifice admissions.

The Roman Artists whom they engraved

thus names upon their works, always added a word that denoted that they believed them to be imperfect. It was "prægbat," or "fa-ebat," not præcitat - nor fecit. In like manner I thus publicly inscribed the imperfect tense upon the system of medicine which I ^{have} ~~had~~ taught. It will not account for many of the phenomena of the Animal Economy, - it will not explain the cause of many morbid states of the body, nor does it provide a cure for several of the most distressing dis-eases which afflict the human body.
- I have made this declaration ^{gent} with a view to call upon you to take charge of the defective & unfinished labor of my hands. The years that I have passed, often remind me that I must shortly retire from this chair. The time of this event is known only to the great arbiter of life & death, but did I believe this would be the ~~the~~ last time I should ever address a class of students of medicine, my parting advice to them should be, Cultivate - Cultivate - Cultivate ~~principles~~ principles in medicine. To these,

^{the United States owe their reputation in} ~~(But the late Dr. Geddes said)~~ foreign countries they have acquired in our science in foreign countries.
~~The discoveries which are made by them~~ are not fortuitous, or transient. They ~~and do not consist in ephemeral~~ ~~publications~~

of improved cures of diseases by new remedies.
They long may this character of our country continue to be merit'd, and may the ~~researches~~ ¹⁰ of our discovery of new principles ^{in medicine}, consign those old errors to ~~oblivion~~ Oblivion, and establish some new truth in ~~medicine~~ every year, until our Globe shall perform its last annual revolution and time itself shall be no more.

I cannot take leave of you Gent^m without regretting that the ~~number~~ pressure of my engagements ^{during the winter} have prevented my cultivating a greater intercourse with you. I have lost I am sure both pleasure and improvement by my want of leisure for that purpose.

卷之三

W. H. H. & Co. - 1890

Accept of my thanks for the ¹¹ patient and regular ~~and~~ attention and promptitude with which you have been pleased to honour these lectures, and of my most affectionate wishes for your continued happiness in your profession, and for your personal happiness.
